Seitenbacher shows once again with this product that the company is always up to date! Easy to count nutrition with convenient portion bags for an instant protein shake for those on the go. During the night, the muscle feeds on stored protein in the body and eventually starts to break down the muscle in an attempt to gain energy.

This new drink is designed to stop the muscle from breaking down and switching the body back into muscle building mode. This nutritional shake has 20 g of fast digesting protein which is the muscle fuel needed to build back up again. This product contains 4.1 g of BCAA's, one of the most important amino acids to help muscle growth. This is the perfect shake for every fitness enthusiast!
